Join contributors to Kwäd?y Dän Ts'inch?: Teachings from Long Ago Person Found as they discuss how scientific analysis and cultural knowledge helped piece together this man's life, a life that ended just as Europeans were about to arrive in the northwest. Presented in partnership with Royal BC Museum and Oak Bay Archives. Registration begins February 19.

On a late summer day, many years ago, a young man set out on a voyage through the mountains. He never reached his destination. When his remains were discovered by three British Columbia hunters, roughly three hundred years after he was caught by a storm or other accident, his story had faded from even the long memory of the region's people. First Nations elders decided to call the discovery Kwäd?y Dän Ts'inch?—Long Ago Person Found.
