Paid in Full is a 2002 American crime drama film directed by Charles Stone III. It takes place in Harlem in the 1980s. The title of the film is taken from the 1987 album and 1987 song by Eric B. & Rakim .

It is stamped with a big red stamp that says, "Paid In Full." That means that my home now really belongs to me. It has been paid for in full. That means that my home now really belongs to me. It has been paid for in full.

Paid-in capital is the amount of capital "paid in" by investors during common or preferred stock issuances, including the par value of the shares themselves.

It's a great ploy by the paying party. The one who is owed money is obviously very interested in getting paid, and the non-payment to their company may even be causing serious cash flow problems. The paying party throws a check on their desk, and the check – while not a full payment – looks awfully tempting.

A young man from Harlem, forced to cope with the 1980s drug scene, builds an illegal empire, only to have a crisis of conscience.

Be careful not to discriminate by making some workers in similar jobs part-time while others in the same job are full-time. You may not think you are discriminating but denying benefits to part-time employees may in effect be discriminating.
